Change impact
Risk assessment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The updated packaging may require adjustments in warehouse storage and handling processes due to the new dimensions and increased SPQ. Shipping logistics will need to account for the new box size when calculating freight and storage. No impact on product functionality or technical specifications.
Suggested implementation plan	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Inform relevant warehouse and logistics personnel about the packaging changes. Adjust storage planning to accommodate the new box dimensions and increased SPQ. Ensure that handling procedures account for individual product boxes within the transportation box. If necessary, contact your sales representative for further guidance and support.
