Template:Webui network firewall general settings

The General Settings tab is used to configure the main policies of the device's firewall. The figure below is an example of the General Settings section and the table below provides information on the fields contained in that section: